

CDC guidelines update

According to new CDC guidelines that will go into effect on June 15, fully vaccinated people will have fewer restrictions placed on them.

Vaccinated people...

- can resume activities done prior to the pandemic.
- do not need to wear a mask or maintain physical distancing.
- do not need to get COVID-19 tested before or after traveling inside of the United States.

Vaccinated people still need to...

- follow guidance when traveling such as wearing masks on planes, foreign countries, or buses and trains.
